NUMBER 22.

THE BIGGEST EVENT IN GRENADA'S HISTORY WILL BE THE FAIR OF 1923

The business conditions of the Country admonish merchants, farmers and every other business man that our people never before needed so much the object lesson of a Fair

I. C. WILL EXHIBIT AT GRENADA FAIR

Same Exhibit Shown at Tri-State and State Fairs. Received Much Favorable Comment. Development Bureau Men in Charge. Some Valuable Lessons may be Learned by Farmers.

The Illinois Central railroad will bring its exhibit to the Grenada Fair. H. J. Schwieter, General Development Agent, has agreed to bring the entire Agricultural display, which has received much favorable comment at the Tri-State Fair and at the State fair in Jackson. The pure bred Jersey bulls which stopped one afternoon in Grenada on their tour of the South last spring, will make a return engagement also.

The Agricultural exhibit is attractive. To learn is a pleasure when the path is soft, and the fascination of the details, arrangement and thoroughness of their display brings the development bureau men more visitors than usual.

The dairy division includes everything from an actual cross section of a model dairy barn (which may be made by any farmer) to a variety of rations all proportioned and measured out so as to give the best results. The grain rations include feeds which may be grown on Mississippi farms. Then there are the hay and forage crops—dozens of them and all suited to conditions throughout the Grenada fair territory. Clovers, cow peas, soy beans, velvet beans, and a variety of grasses all of which were actually grown in Mississippi. Winter pastures come in for exploitation—how they may be handled and how to prepare for them. The dairyman has complete course of study in this I. C. booth.

A section of the display is devoted to results obtained from the Illinois Central demonstration farms, with use of limestone. Bunches of plants taken from limed and unlimed plots are shown. If they are not graphic enough, there are enlarged pictures of the fields, showing how the work was done and visual "proof of the pudding"—a picture for each field. These results are particularly worth while since they represent work done on fields in the state, and not under conditions further North where conditions might be different.

The Illinois Central plans to do everything possible to make the North Mississippi Fair a success. Their men are working with the Milking Contest, to make this new section of the fair prove a winner. It is said that other sections of the state are watching for the success of this department, since it is a new feature and one which appeals to the dairying sections. To Grenada goes the credit of organizing and staging the first event of the kind in this state.

FROM ONE OF THE "GRENADA BROADCASTERS"

I have been several times lately asked the question, "What has become of the Broadcasters?" We have had very little to say about our work through the paper but have been doing our best to serve the various communities in the county in the best way we could and it gives me great pleasure to say that the members of this splendid organization have been in every church of the county from one to five times and have also visited churches in the neighboring counties of Carroll and Montgomery. We feel that some good has been accomplished as the result of our efforts in this great work and that "the field is white unto harvest and the laborers are few" but if the churches will let us know a week before hand, we shall be very glad to furnish them with speakers from our membership.

Fair Officials Name I. C. Day

Friday, Oct. 26th, Designated "Illinois Central" Day of Fair. Railroad Officials Invited.

In testimony of its appreciation of the splendid service rendered and the many courtesies extended by the Illinois Central Railroad company, the North Mississippi Fair Association has set aside Friday, Oct. 26, of the fair week and have designated it as "Illinois Central Day." The secretary has addressed a personal letter to all the officials of the Illinois Central extending them a very cordial invitation to attend the fair on that day and a special program that will be sure to please the railway officials is being arranged. The Illinois Central has done and is doing everything possible to help make the fair next week a success from every viewpoint. It has granted low excursion rates for the meet, has arranged to run special trains, and wherever it could extend any courtesy it has done so.

FORMER GRENADIAN DIES

The remains of Mr. S. E. Holland, who died Sunday morning at his home near Yazoo City, were interred in Bethel burying ground near Sabougla in Calhoun County Monday afternoon after services conducted by Mr. R. E. Perry. The deceased's pastor at Yazoo City had conducted services that morning at the home.

Mr. Holland was born sixty-seven years ago in Calhoun County near where he was buried. He had for a number of years resided in Grenada leaving here to go to the delta in 1918. He was known as an upright, conscientious, God-fearing man and lived at peace with his neighbors and his friends. He had early in life united with the Presbyterian Church and lived truly according to his religion.

Only a few weeks before his death Mr. Holland had come to Grenada with the remains of his daughter, Miss Carl Holland, who was buried in the family cemetery in Calhoun County.

Besides his wife, he is survived by one son and five daughters to all of whom The Sentinel extends its deepest sympathy.

GRENADA COUNTY NEGRO AD- DRESSES LETTER TO BRETHREN

Advises Them to Remain in the South Where They Are Assured of Comfortable Living. Says Negroes in North are Without Shelter and Without Work and Wanting to Come Back to Southern Homes.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 30, 1923.
"To the Colored People of Grenada County:

"After having come to Detroit, Michigan, I found some difference in what I heard about the place. I enjoyed the trip, I found work hard to get, and now still harder; you can't get a job now hardly at all. I got a job at the Maxwell and Chalmers shop, I was lucky as the shop open. The shops and the street cars are crowded with colored people who have been here three and four weeks and who have not got anything to do and they are still coming by the thousands, and what are they going to do? I want to tell you that at home they can get something to do to live off of. They can get 75 cents and a $1. a day at home and folks had better stay there. I have heard that nine times in ten a good run is better than a bad stand but this is a case where that won't work. You that are standing had better stand on. You won't make a thing by running. You meet the very thing you think you are running from. We all think backwards most of the time. You think of the panic and run and think you have left it behind you, but when you come here it is in front of you and you meet the very thing you are running from. And if you are leaving there for some reason, you sure won't find it up there. Of course I can live anywhere, just me one. It's for the sake others that I am writing. My board has cost me since the first of June, $136.00, and I have been at a cheap boarding place, and other expenses for the same time, $204.00; it takes every cent one can make to live off of. I keep count of every dollar I make and spend, and I spend just as little as I can and I have nothing left. I hope no one will think that I am writing this just to keep any one else from coming. What I am saying is the truth. I guess you have seen the river get full and back out into the country; well that is the way with the colored people in Detroit. The town is full and they are backing out into the country. Here some are staying in garages and in sheds or just anywhere for shelter. I don't know how most of them are living at all. They have no work. The Lord is sure good to us by keeping it warm so long; if it were cold I don't know what would become of these colored people. There are so many that have no work nor can they get anything to do. I am telling you, my color, stay away, and go to work and work eight hours a day like one has to do here, and you will make a living there and a good one. The way you have to work here, eight hours is all one can stand. So just think of this and be reconciled where you are. I feel sorry for my people. But if you will do your part the Lord will do his. What I am saying will not help the ones up here but will help maybe the ones there. I hope you will accept this, for it is true. I am not telling all that I know about things up here, am just giving a hint. Nobody can write just what a fix lots of the colored people who have come here are in. They are among strange people and strange surroundings and new conditions. Lots of things they can't do and people are not helping many of them to give them work and there are lots of the people here that don't want of the colored people. So I hope you will make yourself at home where you are. Whatever charges there are on this letter, I hope my father, Rev. G. L. Ankton will pay it; I will pay him when I come back home. I don't

WINS PROMOTION SOON AFTER MARRIAGE

On Monday of this week, Mr. Morris Thomas became division manager for the Liggett and Myers Tobacco Co. in this territory, succeeding Mr. J. E. Padgett who is being transferred to Jacksonville, Fla. by the company. Mr. Thomas was married on Oct. 9 and his promotion, while it did not come as such, might be termed as a wedding present from his employers. He has been in the employ of the company for some months and his interest in his work and his ability earned for him a justly deserved promotion.

Mr. Padgett and his excellent care how dark the night, I believe in the coming of the morning.

Respectfully,

(Signed) Roosevelt Ankton.

The above letter addressed to "The Colored People of Grenada County, Mississippi," and written by Roosevelt Ankton, a Negro who went from Graystone, this County, some time ago to Detroit, was received by The Sentinel some days ago with the request that it be published. The letter bore post marks of Sept. 30, Detroit, Ankton's father, Rev. G. L. Ankton, is a minister in one of the branches of the colored Methodist church, and enjoys the good will and the esteem of his white neighbors.

The Sentinel has not agitated about the negroes going away. By this statement this paper would not be understood as desiring to have the Negroes go North, or to any other place, for such is not the case. But the Editor of this paper sometime ago came to the conclusion that the more that was said to those negroes thinking of going by white people, the worse they would want to go, hence it has concluded that it was best to let them try it out. The matter of Negro immigration and of labor will adjust itself within a few years to the betterment of all concerned. In the going of the Negro North, the problem of the Northern white man multiplies, and in the end, it means less consideration for the Negro in that section and in due time, that he will be entirely in the discard politically, and when that is done, when the North ceases to play the hypocrite about the Negro's so-called political rights the Negro will be in better standing for all his business rights in the South and everywhere. He is entitled to a square deal. He is entitled to honest dealing. There is a certain sort of affection between the white man of the South and the Negro that never will, never can, obtain anywhere else. The Southern white man looks back to the days of long ago, and those who are not old enough to look back, learn from their parents about the attachments on the farm and how the colored man petted and coddled all the white children, and how the faithful old darkey waited on the sick among the white people and how he was faithful and true in all other things—these things will never be forgotten. But there are just some things that the moving Negro will not listen to the Southern white man about, and in this connection the Editor of this paper recalls a political speech Gen. J. Z. George made in the days of long ago in the court house in the town of Charleston. The great old man had made his speech, and just before his conclusion, he turned to the Negroes, who filled nearly one half of the court house, and said: "I see you Negroes over there. You will believe me about anything except politics; about that you think whatever I tell you is a lie, but I want to tell you this, that we (the Democrats) are going to carry this election. Whatever God Almighty has put asunder let no man join together." So about this north-going fever, the less the Southern white man says the better. The Negro that just must go, let him try it. He will find out.

The Ankton letter tells its own story and comes to The Sentinel as a voluntary contribution. The letter is written with pencil, and in accordance with Roosevelt's request, "where I made mistake, please strait them out," the straightening has been done by rewriting the letter on typewriter so machine man could travel with it. The letter is printed just as written.

family expect to leave in a few weeks for their new home in Florida and the best wishes of their numerous friends go with them. They have endeared themselves to all who have come to know them during their residence here and all regret to see them leave.

HEALTH PROGRAM DURING FAIR

The Woman's Club will co-operate with the Fair Association in putting on a health program fair week. All mothers desiring to have their children under school age examined free of charge bring them the first three days of the fair. The State health department will send a child specialist to make the examination.

Backwoodsman Writes Editor

Harks Backs to Former Days and Compares Present Conditions with those of Years Back.

Editor The Sentinel: Wuz in town tother day and had my dawg with me, and up walked an officer and said to me, "my friend, better tie that air dog er put 'im up or I will have ter kill him," and I sez partner, "when you kill that dog, you had better move and old Grenada better send fur the doctors." That dawg aint dead yet and I did not tie him or put him up ether. Just wanter tell you, sir, that when it gits so that a man cannot let his dog follow him, regerations have gone hog wild.

At that same time, I stopped my ox team right whar I stopped it years ago when I went ter town regerally, and that same officer told me that the kars came before the oxen and that I would hafter move 'em. I ax him whar wuz I going to move them to, and he sez, he dunno. Wal, I had ter drive my oxen off behind some store and feed 'em but bless the Lord when I went out to see about they wuz a getting along, a loose mule, had driven them off and was eatin ther feed. I git ready jes as quick ez I could and git my dawg, my teme and wagon, my ole woman and myself out of town. Pears to me that the ortermobile is the petted calf; a feller must give it the road or be run over, and the biggest argument for good roads is so that the ortermobiles may git over 'em fast. I'm hearing that there is little pervision made now for the country wagin and the boss. Don't yer ever git it into yer heads that you can git along without the mule and the hoss. If I mistake not, folks go wild about more things in America than anywhere else I ever heard of; they got to be cutting up about summin or runnin after summin, but now it looks purty much like every fellow was runnin away from summin, but little regard is given the direction or little thought pears like is given as to whar folks are going.

I sposed Adam and Eve, before Eve made that perfect old man taste that apple, did not need to think about whar they wuz goin. They just thought they were gwine to stay right thar all the time, and I rekin they would. But they forgot orders and then the first thought was to hide, and folks have been hiding things ever since. Worlds of folks hidin things today that call themselves respectable which if other folks knew, would make them have fewer neighbors.

Went ter preachin tother day, and the parson tuk as a text, "Be sure your sins will find yer out" and looked right at me. I came blamed near gittin up right thar and then and tell him he needin be lookin at me about shootin John Swobin's cow tother day for gittin in my pea field or about whippin the devil outin Bill Mungay when I wuz about eighteen. But that preacher did rare and I kept er thinking he was talkin about me. I seed a lot of fellers movin round er round is thur seats as if they thought he knowed summin on them. I thought once I would tell him what I knew on a lot of devilish fellows thar. But the preacher just kept a talkin, and I heard him say summin about old David and "thou art the man" which just made me jump up. I sot down agin, en about that time they started ter singin, "Swing low sweet chariot" and "Jesus is calling," which made thoughts of my dady and mammy run thru mer mind, I jist got up and made a clean breast of the whole matter and giv that preacher mer hand, and jined the church, en you bet your last dollar that I hev been feelin better ever since. But ter that preacher and my religion I'd tuk the hair off that officer's head when he talked about killin mer dawg. I am feelin better ever way and while folks is saying the devil is ter play, I believe the Lord will head the old rascal off and that heaven will git the biggest share of this earth. But neighbor, be on yer guard, and see if yer cant help the Lord on the job, but maybe yer are doin that.

Went with my ole hen and Jim Swellfoot's ole woman ter the consolidated school exercises tother day. Saw chillun kum ridin in trux from six and eight miles. Lar, they kant walk er tell now ter school. Me and Bill, Jim Henry, Liz, Peggy and Mariah walked three miles every day er skule when thur wuz eny skule. Chillun kant walk more on a quarter now, and in towns, they tell me, two blocks is too fur fur them ter walk. But they had a lot a chillun thar. They did lots er things. Saw thur mestie glonce room. They had er lot

UNION SCHOOLS AND GOOD ROADS

Real Highways Mean Education in the Rural Districts. Facilitates Transportation of Pupils to and from School. One Helps Other.

The "little red schoolhouse," good as it is, is not as good as the "big red schoolhouse." States which have experimented in rural districts with the "consolidated" schools (sometimes called "union schools" or "centralized schools") report a great gain in education at little or no increase of cost.

The "consolidated school" takes the place of half a dozen or more "little red schoolhouses," collects the several teachers, libraries and facilities under one roof, and brings the children to and takes them from such schools via county operated motor busses, horse-drawn vehicles or trolley cars.

The consolidated school flourishes where good roads are. It cannot be established where are only poor roads.

The Superintendent of Public Instruction in the State of Washington sets forth as the advantages of the consolidated school, that it provides a better school plant, i. e., makes possible the erection and maintenance of more modern school buildings and school equipment. It enables the district to increase the teaching staff and to obtain better trained teachers, and gives the rural community the advantages of the uniform graded school. It makes possible the establishment of high-school courses, and, in many instances, enables the rural district to erect a modern high school building. It provides special work, such as manual training, domestic science, etc., in the rural community, and, finally, the consolidated school increases community interest in community activities by providing a central meeting place under attractive surroundings, making the school the center of the community circle.

ADDITIONAL PRIZES GIVEN.

In interest of Club work, dairy and other live stock enterprises, McElwath & Co. will give the following prizes at the Grenada Fair: For best pig pig and best club pen of poultry 200 lbs. each of pig and poultry feed, for second best 100 lbs. each. For winner in dairy contest 200 lbs. dairy feed, for second best 100 lbs. For best mule colt 100 lbs. for best horse colt 100 lbs.

er things spread round. The teacher talked a whole lot but I bet a bottom dollar that she cant cook a decent b'skit or make any salt risen light bread. They had a lot of fanlango stuff in the way on sowing but didn't see a single cotton sac or a single hickory shirt or home made gallsuses. The chillun spoke and read. Some talked about welfair work, some about what big things were goin on among the wimmen and one feller said sum'n about George Washington and the Declaration of Independence. Ez I kum along home I got ter think ter myself of those chillun did not know about as much ez I did, and said to myself that they knowed a lot more then the chillun did when I wuz a boy. Then I got to countin the cost and I pared whut they spent on my schulin and what we are spendin on them chillun's schullin, en I believe in proposition to outlay we beat 'em. My mind run right back to my tax recete and I said to myself, 45 mills tax is wuss then goin sum. Then it kum to me, that none uv us ken carry anything away from here, and maybe we are layin up treasuries in heaven by doing what they are doin with these chillun so jes hushed. Pears to me that I never saw or heard of so meny thing that people jes don't know about. Pears like we are up again a stone wall, yet they tell us we are movin on, and I reckon we is, but we sho need somebody to tell us whar we is and which way is the best to go. I am with the good folks, en what they sez do. I jes bout made up my mind ter do. I dont know and dey dont know, but schule men and editors, ougter know moren me. Good luck, Mr. Editor.

Yours respectfully,
David Lookingback.

THE FAIR NEXT WEEK.

Grenada's biggest event will take place next week. The forth-coming Fair is destined to be the greatest gathering in all of Grenada's history.

From almost the earliest days of civilization there have been some annual feasts or gatherings whereby the people might test out what each other has been doing, and where plans might be laid for the coming year.

The Fair is a testing time. People must be tested. Every man and every woman should test themselves. Only by a proper individual test, can men and women develop into real, full rounded men and women, and can they equip themselves to render that service they are due to render to their families, themselves, their God and to their country.

If we are to believe what the signs of the times indicate, our country is rocking. We are somewhat like a great vessel afloat at sea with the captain bewildered of mind and the crew quarrelling with each other; everything needful for the life and the care and the comfort of the passengers is aboard, but there seems to be nobody to direct the course of the ship, hence the excitement and the anxiety among the passengers. Thus it is that the thinking man realizes that individual effort must assert itself.

If we are not making a business success with our farms, with our stores and with our other business enterprises, then it is time we were asking why and making a desperate effort to get at the reasons for our failures.

Particularly is the Fair an institution to be utilized by the farmers and the stock raisers. It is the place to see what others have done; it is the place to compare the result of your farming efforts with the efforts of other farmers. It is the place to see the agricultural expert and to discuss with him what you see gathered and to get from him such information and data as will help you to do better with your farm and to improve your stock.

Be on hand to get the lesson that is here for you and to see the biggest event in Grenada's history. You will be instructed. You will be entertained. It will be days of pleasure.

BENJ. G. HUMPHREYS.

In the passing of Benj. G. Humphreys, who died suddenly at his Greenville home Tuesday morning, Greenville and Washington County lost one of its foremost citizens, Mississippi lost a true representative in Congress and the Nation lost one of its greatest statesmen. He had served his district in the lower house for the past twenty years and for the past two terms had been re-elected without opposition. Had he wished it, Mr. Humphreys could no doubt have been elected Governor in the last campaign but he felt that he could best serve his people in the lower house of Congress and he declined to make the race.

He was truly loved, admired and respected by his co-laborers in Congress, both Democrats and Republicans, and his absence from their ranks will be felt with genuine sorrow.

We were privileged to enjoy his friendship and we mingle our tears with those of his loved ones.

"DRIVE OUT THE QUACKS"

Henrik Shipstead, senator-elect from Minnesota, addressing the American Dental Association, draws an analogy between the ills of the human body and the ills of the body politic, and proceeds to an obvious conclusion. The medical profession, he says, has made wonderful progress by "driving out the quacks" and giving real science a chance. He argues, therefore, for a similar driving of the quacks out of politics, where "shotgun prescriptions, bread pills and quack panaceas" are still common.

"The world today," he says, "is a very sick patient, like an old man afflicted with all the chronic ailments peculiar to his kind. The quacks who have had charge of this patient for the past generations have been applying their liniments of public debts and their plasters of bayonets, and of course the condition of the patient is gradually growing worse. Unless scientific methods of diagnosis and treatment are resorted to and applied, the patient will very likely die."

Very true! But what is going to be done about it? The remedy is harder to apply to public office than to medicine and surgery, because there is no such definite, clearly recognized code of ethics in politics, and because, sad to say, the public itself is so tolerant of political quackery. It is curious how thousands of citizens who will have none but the most competent physician or dentist are willing to entrust their public ills to men lacking in both political ethics and political science.—Hattiesburg American.

Our friend Will Hight, owner and editor of the Winston County Journal, had the privilege just recently of celebrating the thirty first birthday of his paper founded by him. We rejoice with him. Hight runs a good newspaper. Its editorial policy is good. Like some other good things which passed away with one of the recent amendments of the Constitution, the Journal improves with age. The press of Mississippi generally may not know it, but Will Hight is a millionaire. He will deny it, but it is true, nevertheless. He has made money, and better still, knows how to keep it. And he is a just, bully, all-round, good fellow. We rejoice with him in his success.

Messrs. J. B. Snider, Sr., and junior, owners and managers of the Senatobia Democrat, recently bought the Tunica County Times from Clayton Rand. One of them, it is stated, will make headquarters in Tunica, the young man, we presume. The Sniders were formerly Grenadians; J. B. Jr., or as he is usually called here, Beelah, was born in Grenada, hence we feel more than a usual interest in him. The Democrat is one of the good newspapers of the State, and it goes without saying that Tunica may expect to be well cared for by these astute experienced men.

BIBLE REFORMERS AGAIN.

The Lord's Prayer has been revised "to remove the thought of death," announces Miss Bertha Laine, official of the Religious Educational Council of Ontario, Canada.

The Ten Commandments also were recently "revised." Occasionally someone decides he can improve the Bible.

In this iconoclastic age, it wouldn't surprise us to waken some morning and find that a convention of snoops has voted to amend the law of gravity.—Jackson Daily News.

GOOD YEAR

"They're like this every time—
I make them of Picnic Flour"

"No chance of failure with Picnic! It's the best self-rising flour I ever knew. Biscuits just can't help being fine when I use it."

"Did you know Picnic is made by the same people that make Dainty flour? And of the very same wheat? Absolutely—the highest grade in the entire soft wheat crop!"

"You can depend on Picnic every time you bake, for its quality is always high. I wouldn't think of experimenting any more with other self-rising flours. Since I began using Picnic, baking has been a pleasure instead of something to worry about. Why don't you get a sack today? If you do, you'll never, never change."

Severe Indigestion

"I had very severe attacks of indigestion," writes Mr. M. H. Wade, a farmer, of R. F. D. 1, Weir, Miss. "I would suffer for months at a time. All I dared eat was a little bread and butter... consequently I suffered from weakness. I would try to eat, then the terrible suffering in my stomach! I took medicines, but did not get any better. The druggist recommended and I decided to try it, for, as I say, I had tried others for two or more years without any improvement in my health. I soon found the Black-Draught was acting on my liver and easing the terrible pain.

Thedford's

"In two or three weeks, I found I could go back to eating. I only weighed 123. Now I weigh 147—eat anything I want to, and by taking Black-Draught I do not suffer."

Have you tried Thedford's Black-Draught? If not, do so today.

SUPERVISORS GO BEFORE TAX COMMISSION

Leave off increase on Farm Improvements but Raise on Timber Sticks.

Messrs. Kemp Mattingly, G. P. Cunningham and Ira G. Rounsaville, members of the board of supervisors of Grenada County, went to Jackson last Friday to confer with the State Tax Commission relative to the order issued by the Commission for a 50 per cent increase in the assessment on farm improvements and a 300 per cent increase in the timber assessment of the County. Mr. W. M. Mitchell, legal advisor for the board, was also one of the party.

It is stated that the Tax Commission agreed to leave off practically all that was demanded in the way of an increase of assessment on farm improvements but stuck to its demand for an increase in the timber assessments. The Supervisors met Saturday morning and began the work of reviewing the assessment rolls and of adding what was ordered to the timber assessments of the County.

The timber on the rolls may be worth what the Tax Commission demands that it be assessed, but practically the same timber has been there for these years, indeed it is safe to speculate that much has been cut during the past two years, hence there is not so much as there was on the lands in question as a few years ago, but the question very naturally comes: How is that the taxing authorities are just now waking up to its value? The timber is worth no more now than it has been for the past few years. Evidently some of the taxing officials have been asleep on the job, otherwise the assessment insisted upon now is incorrect.

It is a guess that had the timber remained in the hands of private individuals, that the old assessment of about one fourth perhaps of what is insisted on now would have been allowed to stand. But as the case stands, some large business enterprises have come into the County, bought the timber and have begun to work it up, and are at once grabbed by the taxing powers. If there is any more timber in the County which these concerns have not bought, it is doubtless getting by with a small assessment, but if the owners get together and begin to work it, good bye.

THE SAME IN WINONA

Winona Residents Speak Out for the Welfare of the Public.

It is just the same in Winona as here in Grenada; our friends there speak out in the same glad, earnest way as so many grateful Grenada men and women have spoken in these columns for years past.

Lem Thompson, foreman, Cotton Mill, Winona, Miss., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are a great kidney medicine. Several years ago I was working at the carpenter trade and I believe the straining caused kidney trouble. My kidneys were weak and annoyed me day and night.

The heavy dull ache across my back and hips was a great annoyance, making it difficult for me to move. After giving Doan's Kidney Pills a fair test, I found they were just as they had been recommended. My cure has stood the test of several years. It is seldom that I take Doan's now only when I think it advisable to flush my kidneys."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Thompson had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

MUST RAISE $18,000 AT ONCE

In a two-page ad in this week's issue of The Sentinel, The Railroad Wreck Store is stating to the buying public in this trade territory that it must raise the sum of eighteen thousand dollars in the short time of fifteen days and in order to accomplish this it has turned its entire stock of dry goods, shoes, clothing and other dependable merchandise over to an adjustment company with orders to slash prices to the bone and to offer such remarkable values that the customer cannot resist buying. The season has been an unusually dull one and the enormous stock of this big store has accumulated and must be moved in order to satisfy creditors. Some of the many, many bargains that are being offered during this mighty money raising sale are listed in The Sentinel and those who think they will in the near future need anything carried by this store would do themselves an injustice should they fail to take advantage of this opportunity.

The rehearsals have been going on for several days and an interesting evening is assured all who attend.

APPRECIATES REST ROOM.

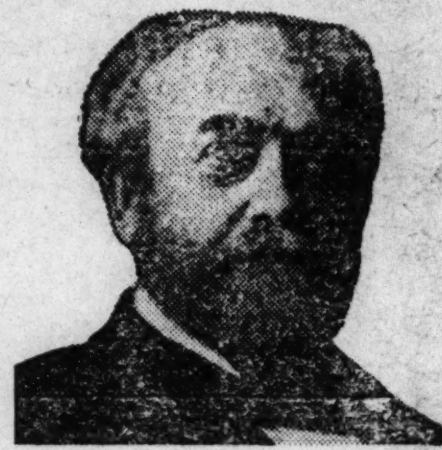

To the Contributors to Ladies' Rest Room:
Just a few words to thank those who have so generously contributed to the "Woman's Rest Room" for the past year.

No one who has never lived out many miles from town and had the tiresome trips to make in, can appreciate the comfort it is to have a place where they may rest and care for children and feel that they are welcome and in no one's way.

As the majority of the town's best business men come from these same homes they feel and realize the need for this public convenience.

Let us hope they will not lose interest in this good work.

A Country Woman.

A TISSUE BUILDER

One of the important laws of health is to safeguard the quality of the blood, for good, red blood builds up the tissues. The food we eat and the food our parents ate, is a factor, also the air we breathe day and night, and the kind of water we drink, absolute purity is a requisite, and we owe it to ourselves and to those who come after us to keep the blood pure. A graduate of Philadelphia and Cincinnati Medical Schools was Dr. R. V. Pierce, who early practiced in Pennsylvania, and became famous. He was a student of life problems, and had great faith in Nature's healing through the herbs and roots, such as were used by the Indians, and, after careful analysis of their different qualities, compounded the Golden Medical Discovery, which met with such phenomenal success that a wider field was necessary, and he removed to Buffalo, N. Y., where he became a leading citizen and Representative in Congress, built up a splendid business, and founded the famous Invalids Hotel. Dr. Pierce's name is alone a guarantee of the purity of the Golden Medical Discovery, which has helped thousands for over fifty years, and many unsolicited testimonials bear witness to its value as a tonic.

Sold by all druggists, in liquid or tablet form, or send 10 cents for trial sample to Dr. Pierce's Invalids Hotel, 635 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y., and write for free medical advice.

A Wonderful Remedy

"When all other remedies have failed, Leonard's Blood Elixir cured me." People in every city and town where this remedy is sold make this straightforward statement. Grateful testimonials of men and women who have suffered from diseases caused by impure blood, such as Rheumatism, Catarrh, Blood Poison, Scrofulous affection, Ulcers, Nervous Debility, and run-down condition is what has made Leonard's Blood Elixir the one remedy which stands out as the greatest blood medicine of the Twentieth Century.

The remedy makes rich, red blood. It builds up the system and gives new energy and vigor to the sick and weak. If you need a blood medicine buy Leonard's Blood Elixir. It always gives results.

Financial strength is to nations as important as military strength. No nation can survive a war if it cannot finance itself.

Germany, unable to borrow from other countries, has been financed by the thrift of her people, as this thrift was expressed in accounts in savings banks.

SIEGEL QUOTES SOME AS. TONISHINGLY LOW PRICES

In this issue of The Sentinel, Siegel's Dry Goods Store, a new store with new goods and low prices, is quoting some astonishing low prices on merchandise that should appeal to the people in the Grenada territory. Mr. Siegel is not putting on a sale but, judging by the prices that are shown, one will see that some sure-enough, honest to goodness values are being offered. Since opening in Grenada a few months ago, this store has made its policy one of low prices with a close margin of profit and passing on to the buyer some remarkable values. THE CHEEKS AND TONGUE

How do you keep your food balanced upon your teeth while you chew it? Why, by the wonderfully accurate team work of the tongue and cheeks. Your tongue and cheeks and lips place your food in the proper position—first between the incisor teeth in front to be cut up, then between the cuspids for the tearing of fibers that may be present, then over the bicuspids for heavy crushing, and last upon the molars to be ground to the finest mesh. When the food is ready to be swallowed, the tongue carries it back to the pillars of the throat. Don't you realize that the loss of a tooth interferes with this wonderful process? Keep your teeth healthy.

Temporary Teeth When They are Abscessed.

By Rea Proctor McGee, D. D. S., M. D., Editor "Oral Hygiene"

If you had a pet rattlesnake around the house it might not do you any harm, but of course you could not reach an agreement upon that subject with the limited brain power of the snake and so you would be taking a big chance that the armistice would be broken.

Your child could have one or even several abscessed temporary teeth with no apparent injury to his general health, but what assurance have you that the apparently harmless collection of pus is not poisoning the child?

When the abscess really strikes and becomes acute, then there is no question about the damage it does.

Then abscesses may not only cause rheumatism and heart inflammation but the eyes and kidneys and all of the bodily structures may be attacked.

When a temporary tooth abscess burrows down the inside of the jaw and gets behind one of the protective walls of fibrous material that separates the layers of muscle in the neck, called the cervical fascia, a very serious infection develops which is frequently fatal.

In order to save the life of the child a very delicate operation must be performed, and that quickly. Don't take chances with abscesses of the temporary teeth. They are not only very dangerous, but the abscessed teeth cannot be used and the good teeth are not allowed to do their work because one tender spot in the mouth will interfere with

YOUNG LADY STRUCK BY TRUCK—INJURIES NOT SERIOUS

Miss Mary Alice Frost, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Frost, who came to Grenada a little more than three months ago from Coffeeville, was struck by an automobile truck driven by Ernest Penn about 6:15 p. m. Monday as she was crossing the street from the park in the square to the northeast corner of the square. Mr. Penn was going north and another car was coming south on Main Street between Spring Street and the square. The lights from the approaching car evidently blinded Mr. Penn, preventing him from seeing the young lady.

It was thought at first that her injuries were critical as it was some time before she regained consciousness. She was cut about the face chewing.

Of course, the best plan to avoid abscesses of the baby teeth is to take good care of children's teeth from the day they appear.

This is the easy method and it is also the safe, sure method. Therefore, it is the common sense method. Begin at the beginning. Later we may be too late.

and sustained several body bruises. She was resting well Tuesday morning and regarded as being out of danger.

Miss Frost is an exceedingly attractive young woman and has become a great favorite with all who have come to know her. All are glad to know that she is expected to soon be out and about again.

A SURPRISE BIRTHDAY VISITOR

On last Thursday morning, October 11, when she went into her kitchen pantry, Mrs. J. L. Nail, residing with her husband on the Pearson place southwest of town, was greatly surprised to find a nice, fat possum who had taken up his quarters there some time during the night. For several days previous some nocturnal marauder had been preying on the chicken yard and it is believed that the guilty one was captured in the person of the possum, who, it is thought, decided to enlarge the field of his depredations by helping himself to the family larder.

By a singular coincidence, that day marked the anniversary of the birth of Mr. Nail and it is needless to say that the possum came as a nice birthday surprise.
